"Labyrinth" refers to a system of lines or paths, which, due to numerous changes in direction, creates a puzzle.

The labyrinthine nature of works of art is exactly what makes many an art viewer ponder where to start his or her contemplation and where to end it.

Who could be better in shedding light on the labyrinthine nature of artistic work than the artist and curator Gregor Hiltner, who will introduce the exhibition with a short lecture at 4:30 pm.
