Ernst Weil - Drawings and Graphics

22.04.23 from 12-6 pm

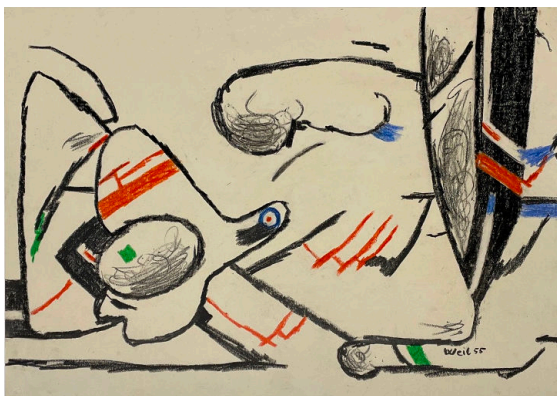

O.T., 1952, wax crayon on paper, 61 x 43 cm

Ernst Weil, who is currently being honored by the large retrospective exhibition "Spontaneous and Constructive" in the Museum Giersch in his hometown of Frankfurt, not only created expressive oil paintings, but also beautiful drawings throughout all of his creative periods, some as studies for his paintings. The Museum exhibition is well worth seeing (see article in the German newspaper FAZ). We are showing a fine selection of his idiosyncratic, humorous and poetic still lifes from his early Munich period in the 1950s as well as the energetic figurative boxer drawings of his Paris period in the late fifties and early sixties.

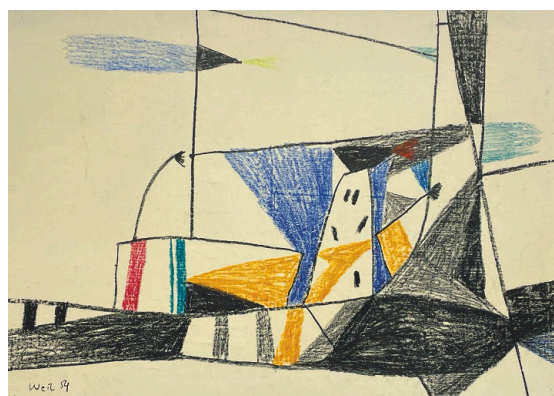

The artist also creates his typical form and imagery in his graphic works, where Ernst Weil once more shows his skills as a keen experimenter on expression and compositional finesse.

At our booth #15 at the art fair "Paper Positions Berlin", Ernst Weil will be on display alongside with the Berlin artist Gregor Hiltner and the Texan artist Howard Sherman.

Duration of the exhibition: 22.04. - 27.05.23
